

Karina Williams

Senior Administrative Assistant for the Dean, School of Communication

Karina Williams has been the Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Dean of the School of Communication since December of 2021 to present.

She maintains all administrative duties for the School of Communication and serves as a co-building manager for the Martin Luther King Humanities building where the School of Communication is located.

Mrs. Williams works diligently to meet the needs of our students, faculty, and staff and to address and resolve any challenges they may face. She plans and coordinates meetings and activities for the Dean's Office, the Academic Departments, and student led activities for the School of Communication. She enjoys being an integral part of the team and helping students have the best Tiger experience possible.
